

CALIN@BANGOR

Health & Wellbeing

The Celtic Advance Life Science Innovation Network (CALIN)

CALIN connects business, academia and healthcare with experts from six leading universities across Ireland and Wales.

Bangor University leads on the health and wellbeing theme for CALIN and supports small to medium enterprises (SMEs) working in the life sciences or health and wellbeing fields to build collaborations and develop research and innovation solutions.

How CALIN works

Contact CALIN

- Eligibility check
- Technical review

CALIN Support

- Advisory reports
- External funding avenues
- Project planning

CALIN R,D&I project

- Up to 9 months
- CALIN partners from Ireland & Wales

Expertise

- » Organisational wellbeing
- » Mental resilience
- » Health promotion
- » Elite performance
- » Service design and innovation
- » Motivation & wellbeing in the workplace

Facilities

- » Brain function – Magnetic Resonance Imaging
- » Integrative physiology
- » Environmental chamber (temperature, altitude, humidity)
- » Psycho-physiological performance assessments
- » Motion capture laboratory
- » Social value hub

CALIN so far...

Has actively supported 200+ SMEs

Helped to create 18+ jobs and safeguard 100+ positions

Helped raise over €15M in private investments, grant funding and match funding

Eligibility

- ✓ SME (<250 employees and/or <€50 Million annual turnover)
- ✓ Life sciences/health & wellbeing sector
- ✓ Company base in funding region (eligible areas highlighted in red)

Ireland

Dublin
Swords
Bray
Drogheda
Meath Kildare
Wicklow
Carlow
Wexford
Kilkenny
Tipperary
Waterford
Cork
Kerry

Wales

Isle of Anglesey
Conwy
Gwynedd
Denbighshire
Flintshire
Wrexham
Ceredigion
Pembrokeshire
Carmarthenshire
Swansea

Contact us @ Calin@bangor.ac.uk

CALIN PARTNERS

CALIN.WALES/EN